

The Girl Scout Promise

On my honor, I will try:
To serve God* and my country,
To help people at all times,
And to live by the Girl Scout Law.

The Girl Scout Law

I will do my best to be honest and fair,
friendly and helpful
considerate and caring, courageous and strong, and responsible for what I say and do, and to respect myself and others,
respect authority,
use resources wisely,
make the world a better place,
and be a sister to every Girl Scout.

Make the world a better place

As Girl Scouts across the country celebrate 101 years of community service, we remain committed to our mission. Girl Scouts salutes all houses of worship for their dedication and support of the positive development of girls everywhere.

Make the world a better place

Serving as a Girl Scout today means being part of a worldwide organization that builds leadership skills by providing girls with opportunities to discover their interests, connect with others, and take action to change the world for the better. March 12, 2013 marks the 101st Anniversary of Girl Scouting. During Girl Scout Week, which runs from March 10 through 16, Girl Scouts of all ages celebrate by demonstrating leadership and commitment in ways that have a real impact on their communities.

Girl Scouts is proud that change is one of our greatest traditions. We continue to keep in step with girls' needs while remaining true to the core values of the Girl Scouts Movement. The Girl Scout Promise "to help people at all times" is actualized everyday through a vast array of community service projects in which Girl Scouts help make the world and our community a better place.

We thank all the volunteers and members in our communities for their time, talent and financial support. That spirit of volunteerism and support makes it possible for us to continue to be the best leadership experience for girls—today, tomorrow and always.
