

Be a Role Model. Make a difference.

Lead a Girl Scout Troop

If you're ready to cheer kids on as they discover new interests, make friends, and find their voices, you'll make a great troop leader! By being kind and welcoming, you'll show your group of Girl Scouts (called a troop) that what makes each of them unique is what makes them powerful.

As a troop leader, you will...

- Lead 1-2 troop meetings per month, on a schedule that works for you
- Facilitate girl-led activities, troop field trips, and community service
- Have access to meeting plans, trainings, and a network of staff and volunteers to support you
- Develop skills like project management, group facilitation, and communication
- Build a welcoming and supportive community for your Girl Scouts, their families, and yourself!

Interested in starting a culturally responsive troop?

Troop Leaders can choose to start a troop that uplifts and celebrates the experiences of Black, Indigenous, and People of Color (BIPOC) Girl Scouts through our Mentored Troop program.

Get started at gsrv.gs/leader

What do Girl Scouts do?

Anything they set their minds to.

Girl Scouts choose the hands-on activities they want to try. They build courage, confidence, and character and change their communities – all while having fun with their friends.

Earn badges by discovering new interests and learning new skills.

Learn about nature and explore the outdoors at camp.

Attend events and programs to try fun activities and make friends.

Build business and people skills through the Cookie Program.

Earn Highest Awards for making the world a better place.

Celebrate exactly who they are and find a sense of belonging.

Learn more at gsrv.gs/join